

About the Program

The Indiana University Maurer School of Law invites undergraduate students who will receive their undergraduate degree from Indiana University-Bloomington between December 2020 and August 17, 2021 are eligible to apply for the Direct Admit program. This program is open to Indiana University-Bloomington undergraduate students with exemplary academic records who have identified Indiana Law as their first choice for obtaining a legal education. We offer this program to strengthen our connection with the undergraduate campus.

This program is intended for those who have not taken an LSAT. Direct Admit applicants who already have an LSAT score, or elect to take the LSAT in the future, should be aware that their score could impact their admission and/or scholarship offer.

Applicants must currently have and will maintain an undergraduate GPA of 3.80 or better and an ACT or SAT score at or above the 85th percentile (Indiana Law cannot use a superscore). Applicants meeting the GPA requirement but whose adverse personal backgrounds may have prevented them from meeting the ABA-mandated standardized test score percentile are encouraged to apply.

Applicants are required to complete, in its entirety, the balance of our application along with other materials outlined in the “Instructions” section of this Agreement. The application fee will be waived for students applying through this program.

Direct Admit applicants, not chosen for the program, may apply to Indiana University Maurer School of Law at any point in the future.

Instructions

Please complete and submit this form, along with all other required materials (transcript(s), letters of recommendation, SAT or ACT score report, personal statement and resume) and submit to the Law School Admissions Office. Our priority deadline is June 1, 2020.

Applicant Certification

I have read the above instructions and understand the stated policies and practices that govern the Direct Admit Program at Indiana University Maurer School of Law.
