INDIANA UNIVERSITY
Bloomington

Reciprocity Policy Statement

It is the policy of Indiana University Maurer School of Law to make available the facilities and services of its Career Services Office to students and graduates of other law schools provided that their law schools provide similar reciprocity privileges to Indiana Maurer students and graduates.

The conditions of reciprocity are as follows:

- Requests for reciprocity must be made in writing by a law school career services official.
- Reciprocity is available only to students and graduates of those schools which allow Indiana University Maurer School of Law students and graduates the use of their resources and facilities. Indiana University Maurer School of Law reserves the right to limit the number of students reciprocity is granted to from a given school until reciprocity has been extended to an Indiana University Maurer School of Law student/ graduate at the requesting school.
- Available resources include materials in the career services library and job listings. Online access to job postings will be granted in accordance with the requesting school's policy. Reciprocal services do NOT include access to on campus interviews or career counseling.
- Reciprocal services are available for a period of three months from the date on which reciprocity is granted.
- Decisions about reciprocity are made on a case by case basis, and Indiana University Maurer School of Law reserves the right to revoke or deny reciprocity to individuals who misuse the privileges or do not comply with the Indiana University Maurer School of Law policies.
- We reserve the right to adjust this policy without further notice.

Requests for reciprocity should include the student's or graduate's name, current year or year of graduation, email, and phone number and be directed to:
